

Endodontic Specialists, PC

The easiest root canal you'll ever have

Our team is proud to shine the spotlight on

Dr. Susan I. Silberg

as a professional who elevates Endodontic Specialists to new heights.

Dr. Silberg received her residency and earned her DMD from the University of Pennsylvania and graduated with her BS from Brandeis University.

"I always knew I wanted to pursue a specialty career in dentistry, and I find it just as rewarding today. I like being in the business of helping people save their teeth. Even though the procedures are similar, every case is different. That's what keeps it interesting for me nearly 25 years later. I enjoy the advances in materials and instruments that continue to make the care I provide gentler and more effective."

It's fast. It's easy. It's comfortable...
It's not your father's root canal!

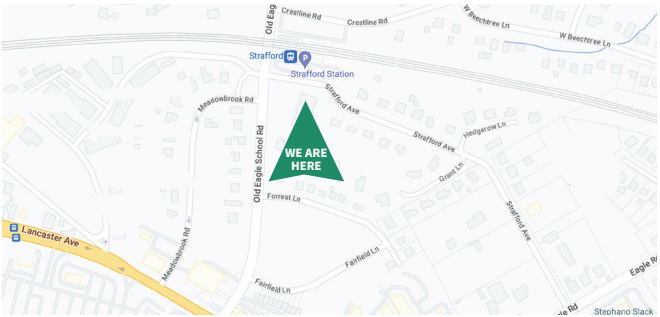

Married with three sports-loving children, Dr. Silberg embraces her role as a soccer, football, baseball, and lacrosse mom. Away from work and family, Dr. Silberg can likely be found running, skiing, hiking, and squeezing in a workout at the gym.
